

14 August 2006 Monday

Lifestyle : T9

STARTWO

Lovely chocolates

SHELF LIFE

WHO can resist the sensual pleasure of chocolate melting slowly in their mouths? But for full on sensory luxury, chocolate has to contain a sinful amount of pure cocoa butter.

This tends to shorten a chocolate's shelf life, so it makes sense for companies like Fidani to handmake batches for immediate consumption.

With ingredients imported from Belgium, Fidani produces a wide selection of Belgian classics – truffles, pralines and nut crunches.

You can have these as they are, or customise them for special occasions. This isn't limited to mere packaging – you can print your designs on the chocolates themselves, for the ultimate personal touch.

